India- Botswana Bilateral Relations

INDIA- BOTSWANA BILATERAL RELATIONS

Background

Botswana is a landlocked country sharing borders with South Africa, Namibia, Zambia and Zimbabwe. Up to 70% of the land is covered by the Kalahari Desert. A democracy since its independence on 30 September 1966, it has stayed politically stable and grown from one of the poorest to an upper middle income country by mining its diamond resources discovered in 1967. Botswana is the top producer of rough diamonds in value terms and the second largest in volume. Botswana's physical volume of rough diamond production was 22.696 million Carats in 2021 (up from 16.868 million Carats in 2020). In value terms, Diamond exports rose from US$ 3.396 billion in 2020 to US$ 5.803 billion in 2021. India is one of the major export destinations of rough diamonds of Botswana.

2. India established diplomatic relations with Botswana immediately after its independence in 1966 and opened resident diplomatic mission in Gaborone in 1987. Botswana established its Mission in New Delhi in 2006. Bilateral relations with Botswana have been close and friendly, with a new thrust in mutual trust over the last few years through high levels visits to each other's countries. Both the countries share the highest ideals of democracy and rule of law.

Bilateral Visits

3. Bilateral visits at the highest level have contributed significantly in strengthening of the bonds of friendship and cooperation between the two nations. Some important visits from Botswana side included that of President Mr. Festus Mogae - May 2005 and Dec 2006, incumbent President Dr. Mokgweetsi E.K. Indian Diaspora

11. Indian Diaspora (approx. 6,000 Indian nationals and PIOs) contributes significantly to Botswana's economy and form a prosperous segment of the society. They are engaged in service and retail sectors viz. teaching, accounting, insurance and finance, medicine and pharmaceuticals. Indian Origin Diaspora also owns several grocery stores, supermarket chains and has presence in hospitality, construction and hospital industry. Most of them are from the States of Gujarat, Kerala, Punjab, Andhra Pradesh, Telangana and Tamil Nadu. Out of 31 diamond cutting and polishing businesses, majority of them have been established by the Indian diamond companies as part of their multinational operations. Indian/Diaspora community celebrates all prominent Indian festivals like Diwali, Holi, Onam, Baisakhi etc. which attract huge and enthusiastic participation, including by local dignitaries.
